Faculty Mentor _____

Position Description

GSA's in the Visual Media Workshop collaborate with the faculty mentor to advance the VMW's research projects and workshops. In this post, the graduate student gains valuable experience both participating in and learning to manage medium- to large-scale digital humanities projects. They are also given the opportunity to experience different modes of collaboration with an interdisciplinary group of faculty, peers, and undergraduate mentees. The projects they participate in are geared, as much as is possible, towards their direct research interests. These GSA's often publish on their work in the VMW, in digital and print formats.
